

Extension of the Early bird rate and Call for Papers deadline

 Published more than 5 years ago

Published: 20.03.2020.

In order to address concerns over the impact of the coronavirus to the organisation of public events and ban on international travel, conference organizers are extending the Early bird registration rate and the deadline for the Call for Papers of the IAEVG International conference in Riga until 30 April 2020.

Conference organisers are following the overall situation and guidelines issued by the World Health Organisation, and in particular the decisions of the Latvian government regarding organisation of public events. Should any changes to the conference plan be required, information about this will be made available on the conference website.

During the three days of the conference (October 20-22), career professionals will have the opportunity to broaden their horizons, look at ideas and methods to improve their work, and be inspired by industry developments. The preliminary conference program can be viewed here.

The conference is open to guidance professionals - career guidance counsellors from different disciplines, organizational psychologists, HR professionals, coaches, policy makers, researchers, academics and other professionals. Please register for the conference by filling out the online registration form.

Related topics

News Euroguidance

<https://www.viaa.gov.lv/en/article/extension-early-bird-rate-and-call-papers-deadline>

