NordplusAugstākās izglītības apakšprogrammas specifika

- Projekts var tikt konkursa kārtībā finansēts 3 gadus pēc kārtas, taču:

- Katru gadu ir jāiesniedz projekta pieteikums;
- Plānotajām aktivitātēm jābūt atšķirīgām. (piemēram – tā paša satura intensīvais kurss notiek 3 dažādās partneru pārstāvētās valstīs).

Funding for intensive courses, projects and network meetings

Grants support activities in participating countries. Each project can receive up to 100,000 € per call and may receive funding for three consecutive years (up to 300,000 € total). Courses may also be funded three times in a row.

- Nevar tikt finansēti pētījumi un doktorantu mobilitāte.

What is not funded

- Researchers and PhD students (unless they teach in a course)
- Surveys

Student mobility and Teacher mobility is recommended to be financed from other sources (e.g. Erasmus+ which also offers funding opportunities for non-academic staff). Nordplus networks are encouraged to examine the possibilities of any such funding at partner institutions and how this could be used for staff mobility in the Nordplus network. This helps to save more of the Nordplus' limited resources for e.g. intensive courses and development projects.

Individual mobility

Mobility is defined as individual student or teacher exchanges between the partner institutions in a network. Mobility takes place also in projects, such as in intensive courses, but this form of mobility should be applied for under project activities and as a part of the total costs for that project.

<https://nordplusonline.org/apply-for-funding/activities-you-can-apply-for/nordplus-higher-education/>

Student mobility

Long-term (3–12 months)

Mobility grants are awarded for full-time studies or work placements lasting 3-12 months in another Nordplus country. The grant is available to degree students of any nationality studying for a higher education degree up to and including master degree at a HEI in the participating countries. In case of work placements, the exchange doesn't need to be connected to a network partner but can be directly arranged between the student's home institution and the host organization/company where the training will take place. PhD students are not eligible for a Nordplus grant. The grant should be seen as a contribution towards the additional costs of studying abroad.

This type of long-term mobility within the Nordplus Network is recommended to be financed from other sources (e.g. Erasmus+). Nordplus networks are encouraged to examine the possibilities of any such funding at partner institutions and how this could be used for student mobility in the Nordplus network. This helps to save more of Nordplus' limited resources for short-term mobility or projects.

Valsts izglītības
attīstības aģentūra

I Mobilitāšu aktivitātes (3)

The following rules apply to all student mobility types:

- The studies/work experience placements abroad shall be fully recognised as a part of the degree at the student's home institution (exception: work placement after graduation).
- ECTS shall be used. Not mandatory for express mobility. In any case, the mobility period must be included in a larger study entity which is a part of the student's degree.
- The Nordplus exchange is possible from the first year of study at the student's home institution.
- Generally speaking, the Nordplus student does not pay any fees to the host institution (exception: any fees to student organisations, application fees, tuition fees for thirdcountry students, any course fees).
- The student shall live at his/her place of study; commuting between place of study and ordinary place of residence is not permitted.
- Confirmation of grant award shall be signed before payment is made (please find the document on nordplisonline.org).
- A learning/training agreement shall be signed before the exchange (Learning/Training agreement). Not mandatory for express mobility. Erasmus+ model contracts are recommended.
- A final report on the exchange shall be submitted by the student

<https://nordplisonline.org/apply-for-funding/activities-you-can-apply-for/nordplus-higher-education/>

Valsts izglītības
attīstības aģentūra

I Mobilitāšu finansējums

- Tiek segti mobilitāšu dalībnieku ceļa un uzturēšanās izdevumi saskaņā ar Nordplus noteiktajām likmēm
- 5 % no mobilitātes granta var tikt izmantoti mobilitātes projekta administrācijas un vadības izdevumiem

Funding for individual mobility

Mobility support is calculated using fixed travel and accommodation rates. The Espresso application system automatically determines the total grant amount.

The travel and accommodation rates are maximum amounts. Networks can decide individual scholarship amounts based on their total grant. Agreements on scholarships must be made before exchanges begin.

Up to 5% of the used grant can be allocated for administration by the coordinating institution. This must be reported but does not require supporting documents.
