Application Summary

The EnVision network brings together four innovation-oriented universities in the Nordic-Baltic region (University of Tartu, Vilnius University, Uppsala University, University of Helsinki) with a range of experiences in designing and running Virtual Exchanges (VEs) in order to 1) facilitate the sharing of knowledge and best-practices and 2) co-design VEs course scenarios and produce shared guidelines for implementing VEs. The network will strengthen cooperation channels in the region, creating a hub of excellence in innovative digital teaching methods and VEs.
The network addresses the need of social sciences departments to 1) expand the scope of international and intercultural opportunities offered to students to create competitive, inclusive, and diverse study environments and 2) integrate digital competencies and transferrable skills (intercultural communication, critical thinking, problem solving, teamwork) into course curricula to enhance graduate employability.
In order to achieve these goals, the members of the network will execute the following work packages: WP1 project management; WP2 Virtual Exchange Seminars and Scenario Design; WP3 Virtual Exchange Toolkit.
The network will produce the following tangible outcomes, which can be used after the conclusion of the project:

VE training seminars, including slides, training syllabus, practical activities, case studies of best practices
VE Toolkit with practical guidelines on VE design, implementation, and facilitation, sample VE course design scenarios, and a glossary of VE terminology in partners' national languages to be circulated among teaching staff
Dissemination of the project activities and results on social media to raise awareness of the innovative concept of VEs among teaching staff and students

Application Summary

In the UN Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) Program 2015 (Agenda 2030) the well-being of the environment and people were raised as equal perspectives alongside economic development. The earth's ecological sustainability is a vital condition for people's lives on earth, and human activity must be adapted to the earth's natural resources, i.e., the planet's limits. Universities need to adapt their activities to accommodate the change needed to enable the transition to a sustainable socio-economic system. For this purpose the partnering universities have broadened their expertise into holistic and more practical curriculums.
The proposed Intensive Week Course is developed around a project work on sustainable solution aspects, which is based on the prior experience of Nordplus' Network Circular Economy and Nordplus' Practical Approach for Teaching Circular Economy – projects. The first intensive week in 2019, has been followed by two more successfully implemented intensive weeks. The participating institutes are Tallinn University of Applied Sciences (Estonia), Liepāja University (Latvia), Vidzeme University of Applied Sciences (Valmiera, Latvia), Kaunas University of Technology (Lithuania), Reykjavik University (Iceland) and Metropolia University of Applied Sciences (Finland).
The objective of the course is to introduce the societal and environmental values of the sustainable solution approach to young professionals, thus enabling them to apply the principles of SDG's in real life industrial environments, entrepreneurship, and organisations alike. This will shape the mindset of these graduates, allowing them to combine and integrate experiences from various disciplines into the sustainable solution concept and prepare them for the challenges of the XXI century.

Par AI izmantošanu projekta pieteikuma gatavošanā

- ✓ Nordplus programma neierobežo AI izmantošanu projektu sagatavošanā.
- ✓ Taču projektu sagatavotāji tiek aicināti izmantot AI kā palīglīdzekli, ģenerēto tekstu izmantot kritiski un radoši, atbilstoši konkrētā projekta saturam un partneru uzdevumiem.

Kā tiek vērtēts projekta pieteikums?

Ja projekta pieteikums ietver sevī vairākus «apakšprojektus» - atbalsta pieprasījumu sadarbības tīklam, studentu un pasniedzēju, mobilitātēm, intensīvajam kursam – katra no šīm sadaļām tiek vērtēta atsevišķi.

Vērtējums tiek izteikts skalā no 1 līdz 20, vērtētāji sniedz rakstisku pamatojumu vērtējumam, kas tiek atspoguļots projekta koordinātoram nosūtītajā lēmumā par projekta pieteikuma atbalstīšanu vai noraidīšanu.

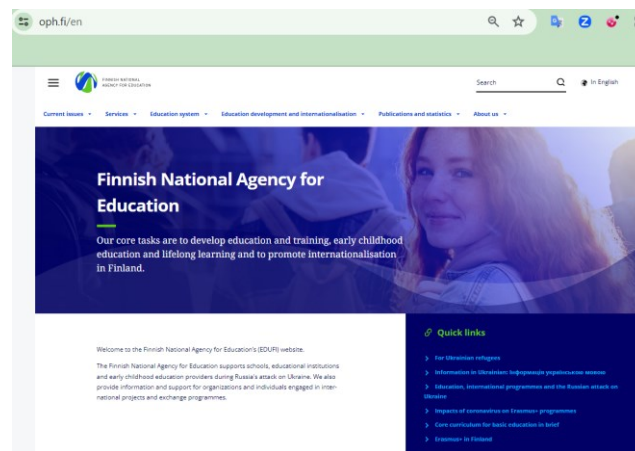

Lai projekts varētu tikt virzīts finansēšanai, vērtējumam jāsasniedz vismaz 14 punktus.
